COOPER COOPER and CO. undertake to answer the oft-heard question, 'Why is tea so dear; and they say it is simply because the public in this, as in other matters are powerless to insist on having their share of the advantages which result from falling markets. Tea in fact was never so cheap to buy since it was first imported into England, as may be easily ascertained by a reference to the current market reports, and yet relatively the retail price was never so exorbitant. Now Cooper Cooper and Co. have resolved to rectify this discrepancy, and to this end they undertake to SELL the BEST TEAS that can be purchased at their respective prices at a small commission only on the actual price paid to importers. This system of business is specially intended to bring the public into partnership, as it were, or at all events to enable them to become participants in the great margin of profit which lies between the wholesale and retail price of tea. COOPER COOPER and CO.'s prices will be found to be ninepence per pound less money than those usually charged for identical qualities.
